GOV. H. M. GORE URGES ROAD BOND SUPPORT

LINCOLN WAY WORK BIDS TO BE SOUGHT BY MONDAY, MAY 21

West Virginia Chief Dedicates Chester City Hall.

YOGA CANDIDATE

Executive is Guest at Board of Trade Dinner.

Surfacing of the three-mile stretch of the Lincoln highway from Chester to the Pennsylvania state line will be completed during the summer, Gov. H. M. Gore, of West Virginia, declared last night in an address at the dedication of the neighboring city's $60,000 municipal building.

Large Crowd Applauds.

Announcement by the state executive that bids for the work would be sought not later than May 21 brought a prolonged demonstration from a crowd that taxed the capacity of the spacious auditorium.

Governor Gore was introduced by Attorney W. W. Ingram "as a man who spent the first 40 years of his life on a farm" and whose administration he termed "the most progressive during the past 20 years." He was given an ovation when he arose.

3,750 Miles of Highway

The governor congratulated the citizens of Chester on the erection of the Municipal building which he asserted showed a spirit of civic pride. Before touching on the question of good roads which formed the principal part of his address, he stressed the issue of preserving the sanctity of the ballot.

West Virginia now boasts 3,750 miles of improved roads, the executive said, all of which resulted from the bond plan now in effect in the state. Declaring that when he took office nearly four years ago about $10,000,000 of the original $50,000,000 remained in the treasury unpledged for work, the governor said that when he retires from office in January approximately $45,000,000 will be turned over to the new administration for road improvements. This, he figured, would accrue from the $35,000,000 additional bond issue to be voted on in

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review.)

THREE foreign fliers visited Wall Street's Stock Exchange and congratulated the bulls on an endurance flight that has lasted for months.

The bears' sad and prolonged crash was viewed with sympathy.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE will give medals to six fliers. Three recently arrived, the Frenchmen, Costes and Lebrun, and the able Italian, Nobile.

He might add one medal for Miss Junkes, daughter of the man that made the westward-flying airplane, responsible for the trip's success. Through all the excitement she has kept out of the limelight, and that deserves a medal.

GENERAL YOURIEFF, related to Peter the Great, fought under the czar against Japan, owned vast estates covering 50,000 acres and a big fortune. Bolshevism has them now and he is dead.

RICH Americans learn from Yourieff that everything depends on KEEPING THE PEOPLE SATISFIED. Without that, power and money are temporary. All the czars could not protect Yourieff in his possessions once the people were thoroughly dissatisfied and ABLY LED.

Moral: Keep the people happy.

OHIO TURNS GUN ON "FREE LOTS"

CLEVELAND, May 3.—A rule specifying that any operator or salesman engaging in a "free lot" scheme in the state would be refused a license forever, is to be promulgated by the Ohio board of real estate examiners, according to Chairman J. W. Jacoby.

Jacoby's announcement followed the closing meeting of the board here yesterday, during which several cases involving brokers and allotment operators who were up for unethical advertising, were heard.

"We do not believe that offering so-called 'free lots' as a means of obtaining prospective buyers for higher priced lots is square," Jacoby declared.

G. A. R. FLAG DAY CANVASS LEADER NAMED

Mrs. Emory Haddox to Direct Campaign Saturday.

PRIZES OFFERED

Funds Sought to Meet Memorial Day Expenses.

Mrs. Emory Haddox, member of the ladies' auxiliary of General Garfield Camp, No. 3, Sons of Veterans, will be chairlady of the Flag day campaign to be conducted here Saturday for the benefit of General Lyon post, No. 44, Grand Army of the Republic.

Women and children will sell miniature silk flags on the streets during the day. The proceeds will be used in defraying the expense of the Memorial Day observance and also for relief work among members of the post.

Headquarters will be maintained in the lobby of the Little building where supplies will be distributed and collections turned in. Prizes will be given to the workers who turn in the largest amounts.

Downtown merchants have been asked by the Retail Merchants' division of the Chamber of Commerce to display the American flag from the sidewalk sockets during the day in honor of the Civil war veterans.

The committee in charge of the sale includes Gideon Stanley, Benton Kirk, Joseph Webber and W. C. Lathan.

The G. A. R. post has 21 members on its roll, the ranks decreasing year by year. Many of the survivors will be unable to participate in this year's Memorial Day observance because of poor health.

Board of Education Will Undertake Only Part of Plan Outlined by Engineer.

DEFER PROPOSED STADIUM HERE

Completion of Program of Improvements Will Require Several Years, Members Point Out.

Improvements to Patterson field which will be taken up this season will be limited to the erection of a fence and possibly the draining of the main playing field, representatives of the board of education said today.

While the estimates of J. R. Daugherty, Youngstown engineer, who has been engaged to prepare plans for the improvements, call for an estimated expenditure of $70,000, the board will undertake only a very small part of this work in 1928, it was explained.

Cost of the fence, which has been ordered through the J. A. Trotter company, was appropriated by the board which retired in December. The manufacturers have deferred shipment until the field's lines have been definitely established.

May Level Playing Field.

After the fence has been erected the board will probably provide for a drain pipe, which according to the plans of the engineer, will be installed under the Pennsylvania railroad tracks. The cost of this drain has not been determined. It is possible that some work may also be done toward leveling off the main playing field on the west side of the ground and also covering of the "dump" on the north side of the lot.

Daugherty's program, board members say, will require several years to complete as the work can be taken up only as the money is available.

Civic Association's Stand.

The West End Civic association in a statement issued today came to the defense of the board in the proposed program for improving the ground, which, in its present condition, was termed "a civic liability, eyesore and a disgrace."

The communication, signed by William Reidel, president; Miss Ina McLane, secretary, and Louis Grogolde, F. L. Fisher and James C. Goodwin, was as follows:

"We notice in The Review of April 30 that some well-meaning but misinformed person, signing himself 'A Taxpayer,' has become panicky and spent about $10 advertising his erroneous conclusion that the school board is contemplating spending $70,000 to $100,000 on Patterson field."

"Now, if this were true, it might justify some protest; but, when the matter was first brought up for consideration, we took the trouble to talk with several members of the board before forming an opinion and learned that nothing is further from their intentions.

"What we do find is that they are investigating the matter very carefully and planning, if enough money is available this year, to clean up that disgraceful rubbish dump along West Eighth street, drain the field so as to make it fit to play on and, by the erection of the fence, purchased by the

League of Nations Plans Study of Polar Regions

LONDON.—

The fate of the 10,000 or 12,000 whales believed still to exist, mostly in the Antarctic ocean, may be largely determined by a sub-committee of the League of Nations now sitting at Geneva.

Consisting of four members, the sub-committee is examining possible means for the preservation of sea fauna. Great Britain, Norway and other powers having interests in the whaling industry are not in favor of having regulations by international agreement, but the proposal to preserve the whale is supported by 21 members of the league.

The urgent need for protection of the whale has often been emphasized. The modern whaler, with its numerous up-to-date methods, has brought the whaling trade to what amounts almost to "wholesale butchery," in the words of one of the members of the committee.

Campaign Expense Call

Friday midnight is the deadline for sworn statements of campaign expenses incurred in connection with the recent Republican and Democratic presidential preference primaries in Ohio, the Columbiana county board of deputy state supervisors of elections warned today.

Candidates, as well as organizations which supported individuals for nominations, must submit itemized accounts of all receipts and disbursements in the fights for places on the two tickets. And this rule applies to candidates for delegates and alternates to the state conventions as well as those who sought seats in the national conclaves.

And, too, the fact that no money was spent does not excuse the individual. He or she must file an affidavit to that effect.

Failure to comply with the law means not only that the winners will not be given certificates of election, but names of delinquents will be certified to the prosecuting attorney for criminal action.

A hint to the wise is sufficient.

"We" Make Last Hop

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who yesterday denied he plans another trans-Atlantic hop, has made his last flight in "We." The famous flyer piloted his history-making plane "The Spirit of St. Louis" from the Mound City to Washington that the mechanical part of the world-famed combination might be housed and become an exhibit treasured beyond all price in the Smithsonian Institution.

In applying for a renewal of his transport license a few days ago, Colonel Lindbergh declared that he had spent 2,420 hours in the air, had made 7,800 flights and carried over 7,000 passengers. At the same time it became known that he has flown over 200,000 miles.

True, all of this wonderful record was not made with "The Spirit of St. Louis," but the really outstanding feats of it, the feats which brought him undying fame, were, and there is a further record made by the two—that of accomplishing every great feat they attempted, reaching their destination, landing safely and, save in the case of the arrival in Mexico City a couple of hours behind the figured schedule, on time.

To more one studies the wonderful record of the Lone Eagle, the more amazing it appears. One can hardly do other than figure that Colonel Lindbergh has a special gift not possessed by many aviators—the gift of direction, which was suggested in explanation of the wonderful accuracy of his course when he blazed the path across the North Atlantic—and in addition to that the ability to get into perfect sympathy with the working of the machine he pilots.

In hardly any other way is there an explanation of the records as a result of which "We" hold a place in the achievements of aviation all their own.

Youthful Discernment

While high school and collegiate commencements are not too far away, pictures and so on revealing the most popular, most beautiful, handsomest, and so on, including all the other superlatives in the classes of 1928, begin to pop into the newspapers with monotonous regularity.

Men and women out of school, if they read these lists at all, scan them with an amused tolerance—boys and girls will be boys and girls, and all that sort of thing. But occasionally one gets a startling glimpse of modern philosophy, of present-day methods of reasoning, and of youthful discernment.

At Columbia recently the results of a series of questions were published. A youth named William Madden had "done most for Columbia," was the "most typical Columbia man," "best athlete," "best all-around man," "best natural man" and the most unselfish."

Another fellow, one George Hammond, had "done Columbia the most," was the "best politician," but, and here comes the catch, Hammond was the man "most likely to succeed." Being an "all-around man" didn't matter. Good nature, skill in athletics, unselfishness—all these characteristics of Madden are apparently not to weigh in the balance of the future.

The man who had done Columbia the most," not the one who "had done the most for Columbia," had in undergraduate opinion the best chance of finding his brow crowned with the mythical laurels of fame in the future.

However, the "oldster" who would incline toward cynicism as a result of reading this callous prophecy, should be encouraged by the mere fact that Madden's qualities were recognized at all. At any rate, the "man most likely to succeed" and the "most typical Columbia man" were not one and the same. Not that a Columbia man couldn't be successful. Simply that the judgment of the campus refused to turn away from consideration of ideals.

Ten or a score of years from now it would be instructive to know what had become of Madden and Hammond, as well as to know how keenly interested their classmates of today would be in the careers which these two outstanding men will have made for them.

Mark Hanna's Daughter

"The victory of Ruth Hanna McCormick is no victory at all for women," declares a California woman. "She campaigned and fought like a man. There was nothing feminine about her. Women are endeavoring to approach civic problems with an educational background and from a feminine point of view. Her nomination will not advance the cause of women. If we are to use the same thoughts, actions and tactics of men, we will not accomplish anything."

It is easy enough to grasp this critic's point of view, and sympathize with it to some extent. But doesn't she go too far?

The victorious daughter of Mark Hanna has one very valuable "educational background," at least—she has a thorough-going political education. To a man, it looks as if any woman accomplishes something when she beats men at their own game.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3—Today at historic old Winchester, in the heart of the Shenandoah valley, will be opened the annual Apple Blossom festival, which was become one of the celebrated flower fests of the county, comparable to the rose carnivals of Southern California cities and of Portland, Oregon, and similar affairs. It celebrates the beauty, fragrance, and fruitfulness of ten million apple trees, is the occasion for honoring a score or more young women of this section of the country, and is an attraction that draws motorists by the tens of thousands from all sections.

Last year there were more than 100,000 visitors in Winchester during Apple Blossom time, and it is expected that the attendance this year will exceed that record. Inquiries received by the American Automobile Association concerning routes, road conditions, and the date, all point to a crowd that will jam the highways and tax the entertainment facilities of the little Virginia city.

Miss Mary W. Boxley, of Roanoke, Va., is to be the queen of the blossom festival this year. She has personality as well as beauty, and is very much what a modern young American queen should be. The list of princesses is too long to be enumerated, but their photographs leave no doubt that the dazzling beauty of the Winchester fete will not be solely that of the apple blossoms.

Of course the apple blossoms will not feature the pageant and the parade in Winchester. They will be on the trees in a thousand orchards on as many hills in the district which the fruit experts say is destined to be the chief apple producing region of the world.

This district is known to horticulturists as the Shenandoah-Cumberland-Potomac District and extends from Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, on the north, through a part of Western Maryland, the eastern panhandle of West Virginia, and the Valley of Virginia, to the vicinity of Roanoke, on the southwest. Federal and state authorities have stated that the district contains no less than 10,000,000 commercial apple trees, all of which blossom within the same week under normal conditions.

Besides, going to Winchester is just like studying history, except that it is infinitely more interesting and attractive to the average individual. Consider this:

"George Washington was elected to the Virginia House of Burgesses from Frederick county when he was a colonel of militia and supervising the erection of Fort Loudoun, in Winchester, about 1755. Virtually every foot of ground in this vicinity was fought over by Northern and Southern troops during the Civil War, and records of the War Department show that the city of Winchester changed hands no less than 82 times during the war of the sixties, and on one day changed hands eight times.

"The city has been a key or pivotal location ever since Washington built the fort, and General Braddock started from there on his ill-fated march to Fort Duquesne. It was a regular stopping place for the wagon trains between Alexandria, Virginia, and Tennessee. The military operations before and after the Revolution and the development of wagon train transportation for freight and passengers required roads, which explains in large measure why the Winchester section has been able to boast of good roads before most other parts of Virginia."

Eight thousand men who fell on Civil War battlefields around Winchester are buried there—5,000 Northerners in the National cemetery and 3,000 Confederates in Stonewall cemetery just across a narrow clay lane.

Now, coming down to modern times, it is to be overlooked that Winchester is the home town of Commander Richard E. Byrd, the first man to fly to the North Pole in an airplane, and who is now planning a similar conquest of the South Pole.

The Toonerville Trolley That Meets All The Trains—By Fontaine Fox

Other Editors Say

Defeat or Victory.

One cruel war is ended with an apparent American defeat. Our movies cannot be sold in France. Will Hays, benevolent despot of Hollywood, went over to make a plea, and came back home without achieving more than a few weeks' reprieve. The reprieve is ended, and Clara Bow, Doug Fairbanks, Senora del Rio and all the rest are exiled wickedly from Paris, Picard, Pierrefitte and Pau.

And why are they exiled? Because they are too good. It seems queer, but it is true. The French were the originators of the moving picture industry, and not so many years ago French films were largely superior to the American product. Now American films are so much better that French spectators demand the American and display little or no interest in home talent. It is to save the French cinematographic industry from absolute ruin that the Americans are banished and the people of Paris and points elsewhere in France are commanded to look at French films or none.

Such a defeat smacks of glory. To be banished for being too good is an honor. But the honor brings no shekels to Hollywood. —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

GIRLHOOD'S GREATEST BEAUTY CHOSEN

Film world says
most appealing charm
is smooth skin

LOS ANGELES, CALIF.—Speaking eyes, enticing lips, beautiful hair—all these the movie star may have but they avail her nothing, say directors, if she is not possessed of smooth skin. "Studio Skin" must be exquisitely smooth for Klieg lights are all-revealing in the close-ups.

Herbert Brenon, director for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, says, "The most appealing single beauty a girl can have is certainly exquisitely lovely skin." And all Hollywood agrees that every actress who has become a star has had skin of exceptional loveliness.

Nine out of ten stars find Lux Toilet Soap is marvellous for smooth skin. Betty Bronson, enchanting young star, enthusiastically declares, "I find this lovely soap is wonderful for my skin."

All the big film studios have placed Lux Toilet Soap in their dressing rooms, which indicates clearly enough how definitely they value smooth skin. Lux Toilet Soap is made by Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Q. Are there any animals that never stop growing? S. A. Z.

A. Scientists say that there are not. In Africa, however, the natives have a saying that there are three things that never stop growing—a crocodile, a gorilla, and a elephant.

For a score of years from now it would be interesting to know what had become of Madden and Hammond, as well as to know how keenly interested their classmates of today would be in the careers which these two outstanding men will have made for them.

Mark Hanna's Daughter

"The victory of Ruth Hanna McCormick is no victory at all for women," declares a California woman. "She campaigned and fought like a man. There was nothing feminine about her. Women are endeavoring to approach civic problems with an educational background and from a feminine point of view. Her nomination will not advance the cause of women. If we are to use the same thoughts, actions and tactics of men, we will not accomplish anything."

It is easy enough to grasp this critic's point of view, and sympathize with it to some extent. But doesn't she go too far?

The victorious daughter of Mark Hanna has one very valuable "educational background," at least—she has a thorough-going political education. To a man, it looks as if any woman accomplishes something when she beats men at their own game.

The Toonerville Trolley That Meets All The Trains— By Fontaine Fox

Defeat or Victory.

One cruel war is ended with an apparent American defeat. Our movies cannot be sold in France. Will Hays, benevolent despot of Hollywood, went over to make a plea, and came back home without achieving more than a few weeks' reprieve. The reprieve is ended, and Clara Bow, Doug Fairbanks, Senora del Rio and all the rest are exiled wretchedly from Paris, Pernigani, Pierrefitte and Pau.

And why are they exiled? Because they are too good. It seems queer, but it is true. The French were the originators of the moving picture industry, and not so many years ago French films were largely superior to the American product. Now American films are so much better that French spectators as well as German and English and other European spectators demand the American and display little or no interest in home talent. It is to save the French cinematographic industry from absolute ruin that the Americans are banished and the people of Paris and points elsewhere in France are commanded to look at French films or none.

Such a defeat smacks of glory. To be banished for being too good is an honor. But the honor brings no shucks to Hollywood. — Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Once Overs

You may know that you are just an ordinary person in appearance, education and social standing and commercial position.

Often you make comparisons between your opportunities and those of your associates.

Then comes a doubt as to your ability to pull yourself higher.

You hesitate to make the effort for fear of failure.

Always there is the thought of your handicaps.

But why keep your unfortunate circumstances always before you?

There will be enough stumbling blocks and discouraging conditions to meet without trying to picture things which may happen.

You know that your efforts have caused a little progress.

When you can see a little improvement from month to month or even from year to year you should not be disheartened.

Lack in your younger years may retard your upward growth but so long as you are going forward a little you should be hopeful.

Ritzy Rosey

Ritzy Rosey has an appointment to try the new system of reducing in which one is subjected to the pressure of several streams of water while running around the marble room. She is in such a hurry that she fails to notice the color schemes of the newest cars. The car, through its color, is identified with some activity. The one bearing down on Ritzy, for example, is a green sports roadster, and is therefore known as a "bathing car," which idea is also carried out in the surf-board girl on the radiator.

GIRLHOOD'S GREATEST BEAUTY CHOSEN

Film world says
is smooth skin

LOS ANGELES, CALIF.—Speaking eyes, enticing lips, beautiful hair—all these the movie star may have, but they avail her nothing, say directors, if she is not possessed of smooth skin. "Studio Skin" must be exquisitely smooth for Klieg lights are all-revealing in the close-ups.

Herbert Brenon, director for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, says, "The most appealing single beauty a girl can have is certainly exquisitely lovely skin." And all Hollywood agree that every actress who has become a star has had skin of exceptional loveliness.

Nine out of ten stars find Lux Toilet Soap is marvellously smooth skin. Betty Bronson, enchanting young star, enthusiastically declares, "I find this lovely soap is wonderful for my skin."

All the big movie studios have placed Lux Toilet Soap in their dressing rooms, which indicates clearly enough how definitely they value smooth skin. Lux Toilet Soap is made by Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

GENTRY CIRCUS COMING MAY 12

Street Parade Will Precede Afternoon
Exhibit.

The billboards and dead walls about the city are announcing that the famous Gentry Bros. circus is to visit East Liverpool, Saturday, ay 12.

Great interest attaches to the event particularly so because the big show is one of the few tented exhibitions offering an array of trained wild animals. The Gentry Bros. Shows for nearly half a century, to be exact, 41 years, have stood at the top among the high class shows.

Beginning as a small wagon show, each year has seen a steady growth, until today the mere announcement of the appearance of the Gentry Bros. shows is synonymous with the fact that the patrons will see a clean, high-class entertainment, free from objectionable features, embodying all that is great and entertaining in the realm of the "white tops."

A special train of double length railroad cars will bring the big show here. The big show represents an expenditure of more than $750,000.

There are upwards of 700 men, women and horses with the show; almost ten acres of tents; herd of elephants; a caravan of camels; one of the most interesting traveling menageries; five bands of music, scores of curiosities and oddities from the four corners of the world.

Simply ask for Edna Wallace Hopper's Youth Cream.

The two men are under bond of $5,000 each for their appearance at the present term of court.

The indictment against the New Cumberland bank officials is but one of a number which might have been issued, it was learned from court officials yesterday, but no statement could be secured on whether further action is contemplated against the Bradons.

17 OHIO MINE WORKERS' UNITS LOSE CHARTERS

Revocations Follow Failure to Oust Insurgents.

PLAN NEW UNIONS
Organizations Affected Located in Belmont County.

COLUMBUS, O., May 3.—An appeal for mine labor was being broadcast today by the Monroe Coal company, of Bellaire, for the Webb mine, through advertisements in Columbus newspapers.

The coal company offered day men $5 per day, with other work in proportion, steady employment, five-foot seam, good board and lodging, an open shop, and "federal protection."

BELLAIRE, O., May 3.—The voluntary surrender of a number of local union charters and strife between the two factions of the United Mine Workers of America organization in eastern Ohio loomed today as a result of the revocation of the charters of 17 local unions by Lee Hall, Ohio president.

At St. Clairsville, it was reported, over ten local unions were ready to surrender their charters to the national organization in order to perfect a new "All Ohio" state organization, independent of the United Mine Workers.

Many miners openly stated that they were highly in favor of a change in policy, that they were dissatisfied with John L. Lewis' administration, and that under present conditions, their "hands are tied" in negotiations with operators. With a state union, they said, negotiations with Ohio operators could be opened, a wage scale perfected, and work resumed immediately.

BELLAIRE, O., May 3.—Seventeen Belmont county local mine workers' unions were today without charters from the United Mine Workers of America following the action of State President Lee Hall in revoking their charters. There will probably be no other revocations in sub-district five, officials of the organization said to day.

Failure of the local mine workers' unions to follow orders of the district board to oust those members who were affiliated with the "Save the Union" movement in Belmont county was given as the reason for the charter revocations. More than 5,000 members of Belmont county unions are affected by President Hall's action.

Announcement of the revocation of the charters of the 17 local unions was announced by John Cheene, president of sub-district No. 5 last night. An attempt to minimize the ousted unions without the membership of those connected with the "Save the Union" group was under way today.

LONDON, May 3.—The Bessemer gold medal for achievement in the iron and steel industry, was today awarded to Charles M. About 500 engineers were present.

old board, provides a means of deriving a decent income from the sale of tickets. This will involve an expenditure of only a mere fraction of the amounts mentioned by "A Taxpayer" and, we think, a very sensible and conservative program, one that will pay for itself in one or two seasons at most, through increased revenue from the games.

"This habit of jumping at wild conclusions and broadcasting them without due consideration or investigation is a serious injury to our city and one that should be discouraged.

"We feel that we have a school board composed of able, broad-minded business men, who are as well and better informed on the financial conditions of the schools than any one not directly in touch with the school problems can possibly be, and if they find they can safely spend a little money changing Patterson field from a civic liability, eyesore, and disgrace to a profit producer and a thing of beauty at a cost of $5,000 or $6,000 it will be money well spent."

"Our school athletes made a splendid record this season and are certainly entitled to this small crumb of support, especially in view of the intolerable conditions under which they have had to play and practice in a sea of mud in the past."

"The matter of civic pride too should come in for some consideration. Strangers, visiting our city, are quite likely to place about the same estimate on us that we place on ourselves, and the impression of a stranger passing Patterson field as he enters East Liverpool could hardly be very flattering."

"If the school board can find a way to beautify our athletic field and put it on a paying basis they certainly deserve to be commended and not condemned without a hearing. The moment they start a move to find out what can be accomplished along this line."

HOSTILE PLANE BOMBS ARSENAL NEAR SHANGHAI

Woman Killed and Man Wounded in Lungwha.

AIRMEN ESCAPE Nearly Score of Explosives Miss Target.

SHANGHAI, May 3.—A hostile airplane attempted to bomb the national arsenal in Lungwha in the southern suburbs of Shanghai today. Nearly a score of bombs were dropped, but the arsenal was not struck. A woman was killed.

The attack was made at noon. In addition to one woman killed another was wounded.

Nationalists opened fire with rifles but the plane flew off in the direction of Woosung.

Lungwha is about six miles from the foreign settlement.

OTTAWA SLAYER GOES TO ASYLUM

OTTAWA, O., May 3.—G. Henry Williams, 63, former probation officer here and alleged slayer of his aged father, was today committed to the Toledo state hospital by Judge William George of probate court here after deciding the man was insane.

Williams admitted, authorities say, that he beat his aged father, George C. Williams, 81, to death with an axe, then hid the body, but could give no explanation of his act.

The passing of the sentence on the son took place in the same courtroom where he used to appear as a witness against the people he arrested during his course of duties as Putnam county probation officer.

1 DEAD, 5 HURT IN AIR WRECKS

Two are Dying as Result of Plane Crashes.

CHICAGO, May 3.—Two persons were reported dying today and a third was seriously injured as the result of airplane crash.

Those believed fatally injured are: Miss Dare Montgomery, 24, and Eugene Apfelbaum, 24.

Dr. Milton H. Wehr, pilot of the plane, was seriously hurt.

The trio had gone for a pleasure trip over the city. They were 600 feet above the Desplaines river when the plane was seen to go into a nose-dive. It crashed into a tree, hung on the boughs for an instant and then toppled to the river's edge.

Dr. Wehr, owner of the plane, was an unlicensed pilot. Miss Montgomery was a Galesburg, Ill., school teacher.

STURGIS, Mich., May 3.—Fred H. Newman, 16 year old son of C. C. Newman, proprietor of the new Strand theater, was killed when the plane in which he was a passenger crashed to the ground. Lieut. Gerald Smead, the pilot, recently graduated from Kelly Field, Tex., was seriously hurt. Dewey A. Gross, 27, a passenger, was also probably fatally injured.

SENATE, HOUSE O. K. FLOOD BILL

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The senate and house conferees today approved the $325,000 Jones-Reid flood control bill and recommended its immediate passage by Congress.

The conferees accepted most of the major amendments adopted by the house to the senate bill.

Some changes were made with a view to meeting the objections of President Coolidge, who has threatened to veto the bill unless the contributions required of the states affected are increased.

Under the bill, the federal government would bear practically the entire cost of flood prevention work in the Mississippi valley.

OHIO AIRPLANE VICTIM DIES

CINCINNATI, O., May 3.—Lyle Waltz, 34, who was injured together with two other persons in an airplane crash near here late yesterday, died in the General hospital here this morning.

Waltz and another man, Joseph Martin, 22, were in a plane said to be piloted by Robert Rorick, 34, when the plane went into a tail spin at an altitude of about 1,500 feet and crashed into a hollow near the Coney Island race track, near here.

Martin and Rorick are in the same hospital here with probable fatal injuries hospital attaches said.

HOUSE "BLOC" RENEWS FIGHT FOR FARM BILL

McNARY-HAUGEN Forces Backs to Wall.

KILL FEE PLAN Substitute for First Section of Measure Adopted.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Severely jarred, but still grimly determined, the house "farm bloc" fought today with its back to the wall to save the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill from defeat.

As the situation stood today the equalization fee—declared by farm organizations spokesmen to be the heart of the measure—is stricken out. In its place is a bill somewhat akin to the farm relief proposed by Secretary of Agriculture Jardine.

Backers of the bill declared that the house would reverse its action of yesterday, when by a vote of 141 to 120, it adopted the bill of Representative Aswell (D) of Louisiana, as a substitute for the first section of the McNary-Haugen bill.

Parliamentary Tangle.

The parliamentary tangle created by the unexpected action was still muddied as the house prepared to renew the fight over the measure today. Under the machinery of the house the action was taken in committee of the whole, with Representative Mares (R) of Michigan as presiding officer instead of Speaker Longworth. Much depends upon Mares' decision on the parliamentary situation.

The action came with dramatic suddenness, although Representative Aswell who, with Representative Fort (R) of New Jersey, has been leading the fight against the bill, had previously announced his intention to move to substitute his own measure.

The "farm bloc" leaders have demanded that they be permitted to consider the McNary-Haugen bill for amendments, while opponents contend that the Aswell substitute should be voted upon finally.

174 Members Absent.

The Aswell substitute was adopted without a roll-call vote, and "farm bloc" leaders were confident that some members would change when a final record vote is taken. They also pointed to the absence of 174 members at the time of the vote.

"We are going to fight on," said Representative Haugen (R) of Iowa, chairman of the agriculture committee. "We shall see whether we have the majority that we thought we had."

Party lines were split on the vote on the Aswell amendment. Many members who voted for it announced that they wanted farm relief and believed that the president would sign the Aswell bill without the equalization fee but would veto the McNary-Haugen bill with it in.

ONLY one minor amendment had been made when the vote was taken. Fruit was exempted from the operations of the bill on motion of Representative Harrison (D) of Virginia.

November: money from the retirement of two issues of bonds and approximately $250,000 which would be forthcoming from the federal government.

Stressing the point that every penny spent in road construction was derived from the sale of gasoline and from owners of automobiles and other vehicles, he urged support for the bond issue. He especially urged the men in the offices of the banking institution.

Gas Tax Pays Bill.

Clinching his argument that the revenue received from the gasoline tax was paying for road improvements, Gov. Gore stated that money received from this source in 1924 amounted to $620,000; in 1927 it totalled $800,000, while this year it will probably reach $1,100,000. The main question, he said, was whether the roads should be improved or the cost increased on the upkeep of motor vehicles. Personally he declared he favored a bond issue of $75,000,000, but preferred to go along on more conservative lines. As a business proposition he said private interests would be only too willing to pay three cents for every one expended by the state in maintaining roads.

He closed his address by recounting his travels in other sections of the state and declaring that in no other section had he been received with such friendly spirit as by the citizens of Chester. At the conclusion of his remarks he took his place in front of the stage and shook hands with his audience.

Seated on the stage was State Auditor J. S. Mallison and H. E. Snyder, division engineer of the state road commission, who accompanied him to Chester from New Martinsville. Large delegations were also present from every section of Hancock county.

E. V. Wehner, head of the board of trade, presided. Invocation was offered by Rev. W. J. Sauer, rector of the Sacred Heart Catholic church.

Selections were given by the double male quartet composed of George Hassen, Earl Mahan, Robert A. Douglass, Robert Mercer, L. A. Britton, Rev. Ray M. Davis and C. G. Woods.

The governor was entertained at dinner at the Green Lantern in Rock Springs park by the good roads committee made up of J. L. Mayhew, O. O. Allison, J. C. Cunningham, C. A. Smith, F. S. Huff, Jr., W. W. Ingram and Robert R. Hobbs.

He spent the night in Chester and left at noon for Wheeling.

Tydings Heads Dems' Committee.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Sen. Millard W. Tydings of Maryland, was unanimously elected today as chairman of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee. He succeeds Senator Peter G. Gerry, of Rhode Island, who resigned.

POLICE SEARCH FOR RUNAWAYS

Police today were enlisted in the search for Tony Thomas 14, and Frank Tassafier, 13, Pittsburgh youths, who left their homes Tuesday and who are reported to have passed over the Chester-East Liverpool bridge yesterday afternoon.

A relative of one of the lads arrived here this morning. They are said to have had seven cents between them when they passed the toll house and informed the toll keeper that they were going to Michigan.

The Thomas boy is described as five feet two inches tall and weight about 120 pounds. He wore a gray cap and a blue sweater. His companion, who is slightly smaller, wore a green lumber jacket, blue pants, black shoes and stockings and a light cap.

$185,000 CUT IN TAX LIST

City Total Slashed, Elmer Walker Tells Kiwanians.

Owing to a reduction in the valuation of public utilities combined with industrial depression, East Liverpool's duplicate, upon which taxes are being paid this year, showed a decrease of approximately $185,000 over 1927.

County Auditor Elmer E. Walker, Damascus, told members of the Kiwanis club and their guests at today's luncheon in the grill room of the Travelers' hotel.

East Liverpool's tax rate of $24.80 per $1,000 was the fifth highest in the county, Walker said, being exceeded only by those of Wellsville, Salineville, East Palestine and Columbiana in the order named. Public utilities paid about one-fourteenth of the taxes assessed in this county last year, he declared.

Walker defended councils and school boards for voting increases in taxes, declaring that the voters themselves very often approved issues which meant higher taxes. Of the 22 tax propositions submitted to a vote of the electors in Columbiana county last fall, 17 were approved, he said.

Ralph Couch presided at the meeting, while the singing was led by Prof. H. F. Laughlin. Guests were councilman Harry Altman, Walter Ashbaugh, Dr. C. A. Shaffer, Superintendent C. S. McVay, of this city and John Noble, Lisbon.

Ray Foutts, promoting the seventh boxing card at the Wellspring city hall auditorium on Thursday night, May 10, today announced he was willing to post a forfeit to insure the fact that Eddie Rose of East Liverpool would weigh in at 155 pounds for his fight with Young Jeff of Lisbon.

Jeff, it was announced today, refused to fight Rose at a weight of 160 pounds. Foutts expects to confer with Jeff and his manager tonight.

WALKER FIGHTS SEVEN-CENT FARE

NEW YORK, May 3.—Mayor James J. Walker today rushed to Washington to make a personal plea to the United States supreme court to stay the seven-cent subway fare decision handed down yesterday by the statutory court here.

The fire also destroyed 7,000 bushels of wheat, 3,000 bushels of oats, one carload of flour, and a quantity of bran and rye, which was stored in the elevator.

Fire departments from Flushing, Forest Hills and Upper Sandusky were called before the fire was brought under control. The fire started at 2 a. m. and was still burning at daylight.

Nearby buildings were threatened. The First National bank building was damaged and business was suspended for today.

D. C. Henry is general manager of the mill and elevator concern.

This is the second spectacular fire to strike this city within the past ten days. A week ago the Carey porcelain plant was destroyed, with a property loss of $125,000.

Propose Bond Issue For Filtration Unit

Council Committee is Named to Investigate Types and Costs; Voters to Decide at November Election.

First steps toward the possible construction of a filtration unit for the city's water system in the not distant future were taken by council last night when President Clyde Baker named a committee of solons to investigate types and costs of such filtration plants.

The committee includes Richard Keay, Charles Peters and Ted Swearingen and will act with city officials, including the mayor, service director, engineer, health officer and possibly the city chemist.

While, at the request of Mayor Foggo, solons have been considering the filtration plant proposition for some time, they arrived at a tangible basis of operations last night as a result of petitions by the Wellsville Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis club, insisting that, for the good of the city, a filtration plant be built.

Both petitions urged that the city prepare a bond issue to be submitted to voters at the general election in November for a decision by the city.

Attorney W. R. MacDonald, member of the Kiwanis club, urged the filtration plant as a matter of economy and as a matter of pride for the city itself. It is not like a street improvement, he said, which goes on as a source of expense for maintenance, but is part of a system which brings in revenue to the city and will pay for itself.

At this juncture Mayor Wallace L. Foggo presented figures to the council and the audience. He said that $72,000 of the original $240,000 reservoir bond issue had been paid off, together with $3,000 of the supplementary $40,000 issue, plus $23,000 in interest, leaving a bonded indebtedness of $205,000 today.

the size. Raising money this winter from fines has been a big job. There has been little work and little money. When you took a $5 bill from a man you felt as though you were taking food from the mouths of his family. And I want to call your attention to the fact that we stand 100 per cent in the recovery of stolen automobiles."

"Did you get Mr. Wells?" asked Rell.

"We didn't lose it," Mr. Rell, replied the mayor.

Continuing, the mayor pointed out that in robbery cases and other arrests of a similar nature, the city did not derive any revenue although the police were doing the work just the same.

"If we need hose, you take it out of the safety fund, which is all right, but the point is the police pay their own salaries. It isn't fair to pay all this money out of the safety fund and expect the police to bring it in. There are a thousand and one things the police do from which they get no revenue."

C. W. Arnold, from the audience, declared that because of the efficiency of the Wellsville police in automobile the city is saved $5,000 a year in auto theft insurance.

Johnson asked Eckfeld how the city stood in wages in respect to others, to which the auditor replied that all other cities were higher.

Rell pointed out that other cities' tax rates were lower. The auditor, however, explained that cities named in comparison boasted much higher tax valuations and pointed to the fact that there were few industries in Wellsville to tax.

DELAY ACTION ON RIVERSIDE IMPROVEMENT

City to Seek Information on Pennsy Assessment.

GOES ON TABLE

Property Owners Ask 24-foot Width; One Urges 30 Feet.

Pending a more detailed investigation, if possible, into costs and the possible outcome of assessments, especially in respect to the Pennsylvania railroad, legislation for the improvement of Riverside avenue by paving, last night was tabled by Wells ville until the solons' next session.

The paving proposal was broached immediately after the solons convened before an audience of probably a dozen Riverside avenue property owners and as many members of the Civics class of the high school, the latter attending the session as part of their work assignment.

When the question was raised C. W. Arnold spoke briefly in favor of a 24-foot street, instead of a 30-foot thoroughfare as proposed in councilmanic legislation already passed.

Pointing out that it would not be a man thoroughfare in the sense that Main street, or Broadway is, Arnold urged the smaller street and the preservation of its beauty.

W. L. Lowry, appearing in behalf of the First Presbyterian church, also favored a 24-foot street, with the view in mind of preserving trees.

H. H. Whitacre seconded Arnold's expression in favor of beautification but injected a new thought into the discussion when he reminded council that more should be known about the payment of the railroad's share of the cost before definite steps are taken, asserting that "we have nothing tangible from them. Do we want to buy a lawsuit? I believe that we should get straight on this first and

City League Clubs To Lift Lid In Saturday Contests

Three Inaugural Games Billed on District Lots

Turk Nash-Chester Clash at Smith Field; K. T. K. in Action at Newell; Madisons go to Wellsville.

With practically every club in the circuit boasting "home talent" rosters, striking contrast to the imported style as followed largely last year, City Industrial Baseball Leaguers will pry the lid off of the 1928 campaign in three opening games in the district on Saturday afternoon.

John Fowler's Turk Nash Motors will go into action against the Chester club 1927 champions, at Smith Field, Chester; Saul McCoy will take his K. T. K. aggregation to Newell for the inaugural with Joe Dickey's and the Madison Billiards, new franchise holders this season, will help launch the pennant chase with the Wellsville Nash Motors at Nicholson Field.

Two of the opening games have been transferred to other lots since the drafting of the schedule.

Turk Nash, which opened away last year, is slated for a home appearance in its 1928 start but officials of the club did not deem it advisable to scrap and roll the ground at Patterson Field with a circus billed in there a week later. Consequently, it was agreed by managers of the Turk Nash and the Chester aggregations to take the game to Chester.

K. T. K. was also slated to do the entertaining on their home lot, Columbian park, but the East Liverpool-Wellsville high school field meet will preclude the possibility of their meeting there with Newell and so, the order of President C. W. Davis, this contest will be enacted at Newell park.

Providing an abrupt change in weather conditions which, up until Monday had prevented practice in an organized form, skies this week have smiled on the baseballers consistently and, as a result, the six clubs of the loop will be in fair shape as they face the barrier on the getaway.

President Davis today announced umpire assignments for the inaugural. Hall, Duffy and Shaw, all veteran arbiters on local diamonds, will work the initial engagements. Hall will call them at Wellsville, Duffy at Newell and Shaw at Chester. Davis is also endeavoring to get in touch with Kinsey of Georgetown.

Tot Is Killed By Flying Bat.

CHICAGO, May 3.—Dreams of Harry Chezum, aged 6, to become a big league ball player were ended today in tragedy.

Harry had coaxed his little brother Jimmy, aged 4, to play ball with him. While swinging at a "fast one," the bat flew out of Harry's hands and struck Jimmy in the abdomen. Jimmy died two hours later.

By Les Conklin.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Jumbo El Hott, Brooklyn southpaw, allowed the New York Giants only two hits in seven innings yesterday, but both were home runs and gave the league leaders a 2 to 1 victory, their third straight triumph over the battered Brooklynites.

The homers were made by John and Lindstrom. With nineteen circuit clouts in thirteen games, the Giants are the leading home run hitting outfit in the majors. The Chicago Cubs are second with fourteen.

In his last previous start, Elliott had held the Boston Braves to three hits in nine innings. He met his master yesterday in Larry Benton, who yielded but four hits.

Open Carroll of Detroit held the White Sox to four hits, winnings 7 to 1 and incidentally stopping Bill Cissell, who had hit safely in fifteen consecutive games. Sam Gray, former Mackman who has won five games for the St. Louis Browns, also allowed only four hits in whitewashing the Cleveland Indians, 7 to 0. His victim was George Uhle, who had won four straight games.

After having won six straight, the New York Yankees were halted by two of their former playmates, Sad Samuel Jones and Garland Braxton. The Washington Senators slugged their way to a 9 to 5 win over the champions and ended their own losing streak of eight games.

then discuss such minor details as width and beauty.

J. S. Lambing, E. L. Kretzer, Elmer Ward, Edward Noble, B. S. Purinton, William MacLean, J. B. Blewett all favored the 24-foot width.

E. E. Gamble of Seventh and Riverside was the only proponent of the 30-foot width suggested by the city. He averred that the smaller street would present parking troubles and branded it as a "mistake."

In reference to the railroad's share of the improvement, Solicitor Knepper repeated his assertion of the last meeting that he confidently believed the railroad company was liable and quoted supreme court decisions in support of his theory. He also pointed out that the company years ago had paid a share of the cost of the brick pavement in Riverside between Third and Fourth streets.

Knepper also brought out the fact that in the event it became necessary to change the plans to 24 feet, in response to property owners' demands, that legislation would be delayed for a considerable period of time and that work, in any event, could not be started before fall pending the completion of necessary legislation.

Knepper then suggested that petitions be circulated among the property owners so that expressions for or against the 30-foot street could be obtained from a majority of them. Nicholson declared that the first thing to do was to determine the possibilities of the railroad assessment problem. Knepper, asserting that there was only one way to determine whether the company would pay, was to have the street, adding that "I'm sure the people, if they want the street, would meet the extra costs in the event that the city failed."

A chorus of shouts burst from the audience at this. "No! No!" yelled the property owners, indicating that extra assessments would have to go on general taxation if the railroad can't be persuaded to share.

However, city officials expect to obtain more definite information in respect to the railroad possibilities within the next few days.

Cleveland Manager Confers With Rickard.

CLEVELAND, May 3.—Danny Dunn, manager of Johnny Risko, Cleveland heavyweight, has hopes of a Jack Dempsey-Risko match, despite persistent reports that Dempsey is through with the ring. Dunn returned from New York late Wednesday where he said he conferred with Promoter Tex Rickard.

Rickard advised me not to make any definite plans until he has a conference with Dempsey when Jack comes to New York again, Dunn told Cleveland friends. "He also asked me if we'd like to take Jack Sharkey on for another bout."

Dunn said he told Rickard he preferred Dempsey but that "Dempsey is really through, we might go through with another Sharkey fight."

days the New York Giants are going to have a real harmonious ball club. Rogers Hornsby, star second baseman, was practically presented to the Boston Braves as a gift "in the interest of harmony," and now Judge Francis X. McQuade, for ten years treasurer of the club, has been dropped for the same reason, according to the other officials of the Giants. McQuade did not favor the Hornsby deal.

But there will be no harmony as far as Judge McQuade and Charles A. Stoneham, president of the Giants, are concerned.
